How did the Fund perform in the last year?

The Fund seeks to track the performance, before fees and expenses, of the Range Nuclear Renaissance Index, which represents a portfolio of companies involved in nuclear energy and related technologies. As of November 30, 2025, the Fund delivered approximately 42.13% over the course of one year. In comparison, the Fund's broad-based index, the MSCI ACWI Index, returned approximately 18.73% over the same period.

The Fund's performance continues to benefit from strong momentum behind nuclear energy as a reliable, carbon-free baseload source amid rising electricity demand driven by AI, data centers, and electrification. The Fund benefitted from top contributors, including Rolls-Royce, Constellation Energy, and Centrus Energy, reflecting tangible progress in advanced reactor deployment and domestic fuel cycle expansion. Meanwhile, near-term softness in Silex Systems, NuScale, and Cameco was attributable to project and pricing timing rather than fundamental changes, which were detractors to Fund performance.

The Fund remains well-positioned to capture the multi-decade build-out of nuclear energy, supported by policy tailwinds and accelerating demand. The combination of leading contributors, broad exposure to the nuclear and clean energy sectors, and the ongoing strength of the underlying market underscores the Fund's ability to deliver meaningful returns in this transformative energy theme.

Rule 30e-1 of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, permits funds to transmit only one copy of a proxy statement, annual report or semi-annual report to shareholders (who need not be related) with the same residential, commercial or electronic address, provided that the shareholders have consented in writing and the reports are addressed either to each shareholder individually or to the shareholders as a group.
